

SILHOUETTE DIE - STYLE 1

SKU: 2129

Achieve consistent and precise component shapes in your jewellery designs with the Durston Press Silhouette Die. These steel silhouette die plates, when combined with a urethane pad, concentrate the force onto the die plate to produce accurately formed shapes in your metalwork.

For varied results, different densities of urethane can be used. A softer urethane is ideal for achieving more voluminous forms with less intricate detail, while a harder urethane is perfect for creating more detailed designs with less volume. This versatility allows for a wide range of creative possibilities, from bold, simple shapes to complex, detailed patterns.

The Durston Press Silhouette Die is designed for ease of use and compatibility with the Durston range of press tools, ensuring a seamless experience in your jewellery-making process. Other styles are available.
